

Smirk Experience

Are you Smirk Experienced?

Smirk Experience uses professional comedians to train professional public speakers. Not to make them comics, instead we focus on the transferable skills between the two disciplines.

Now in our third year of trading our clients include Google, Fulham FC, Adobe, Lloyds of London and many more. There are some testimonials here.

Our founder Sam Carrington has begun contributing monthly articles re our work for People Management, the HR industry's biggest trade publication, the first of which you can read here.

Smirk Experience began as a comedy night and we still run gigs today for both the public and corporates, where as well as entertaining audiences our communication skills are continually honed, as this video shows.

For more information and to get in touch, visit smirkexperience.com